

Distance Learning is centralized in the Koehler Center for Teaching Excellence which includes State Compliance and faculty preparation to teach online.

Faculty must meet TCU Standards in order to teach online. Standards include required training and assessments. All faculty teaching online must use the current Learning Management System supported by TCU. All students taking a fully online class will be charged a distance learning fee of $112.00 per course starting summer 2013.

For specific information regarding TCU requirements and Standards to teach online visit the Distance Learning page <http://www.elearning.tcu.edu/DistanceLearning/default.asp>
